Who climbed a tree so he could see Jesus?

Zacchaeus was a wealthy tax collector who lived in the city of Jericho. When he heard that Jesus was passing through the city, Zacchaeus joined the crowd waiting beside the road. But the tax collector was a short man; he knew he would not be able to see over the heads of the others waiting for Jesus. So Zacchaeus ran ahead and climbed a tree further down the road. When Jesus passed by, He stopped under the very tree where Zacchaeus waited.

Jesus looked up. "Come down, Zacchaeus! I would like to spend the evening at your house."

Zacchaeus was so excited, he quickly scrambled down the tree. He took Jesus home and offered Him the finest foods and the best bed in the house. Jesus spent the evening talking with the tax collector, and the next morning, Zacchaeus announced, "I have done wrong. I have grown rich collecting too much tax money. I will give half of what I have to the poor. Those I have cheated, I will pay back four times over!"

The good people of Jericho could not understand why Jesus would spend time with a dishonest person like Zacchaeus, but Jesus said, "I came to find lost people and save them."
